City Attorney to Rule Whether People Can Vote on "CM" Issue

If City Attorney Joseph Bonacina rules that it is an issue that can legally be referred to the electorate of the City of Campbell, the voters of the city may have the last word next April on the perplexing "Controlled Manufacturing" zoning question that has plagued both the City Council and Planning Commission for more than a year.

Bonacina is expected to announce his ruling at the next meeting of the Council on December 30.

Morton's Suggestion

Councilman Richard Morton suggested the referendum at the close of the Council meeting on Monday at which "CM" was again either the hero or villain (depending on where one was sitting) at the public hearing on the adoption of the ordinance which had been continued from the previous meeting.

Morton said that if possible the question could be presented to the people in two parts at the April election (1) should "CM" be adopted as part of the city's general zoning ordinance and (2) should it be applied to a specific area.

He contended that residents of the other areas in the City had not expressed themselves at any of the public hearings and, although he felt personally that this restrictive type of zoning was best for the City, perhaps the people did not feel that way. He added that, in his opinion, however, it was of primary and utmost concern to the people.

No Delay Involved

He explained that referring it to the people would not delay the decision on the controversial question. He suggested that the ordinance be given its first reading, and the hearing be set for the adoption of the various codes by reference while waiting for Bonacina's decision. Morton said that this procedure would get the ordinance rolling right up to the final hearing (second reading). His vote then, he said, would depend a great deal on the city attorney's ruling.

Mayor John M. Chargin agreed with Morton's reasoning and voted with Morton on Councilman Charles Schmidt's motion to give the ordinance the first reading. Councilman Charles Rose was absent. The hearing on the adoption of the codes was set for January 13 at the same time.

Fairchild Opposes

Councilman Myron L. Fairchild, who at the previous meeting had announced that he opposed the "CM" ordinance because of its close identity with a specific area (the industrial park section at the south city limits), voted against Schmidt's motion and he also opposed referring the issue to the people.

He claimed that it was important not to delay any longer the decision on "CM" and that it was the Council's responsibility to settle the matter at once.

"The big picture has now become the abatement of the controversy that has arisen over this question," the councilman said.

Mayor Chargin defended both the City Council and the Planning Commission for their stand on "CM". He commended the Planning Commission for an excellent job done. If adopted he was certain that "CM" would benefit the entire area.

He heatedly answered some of the implied charges that there "were mean motives involved". He claimed that just becausue it was new did not mean that it should not be tried. He also read excerpts from articles showing the value of a higher standard of zoning for cities.

Councilman Charles Schmidt defended the principles of "CM" and insisted that every effort should be made to raise the standards in Campbell.

"If we set low standards," he said, " it will be hard to raise them in the future."

Opponents Speak

Opponents to "CM", mostly the landowners in the proposed industrial park area, were again in attendance in force at the meeting. John M. Burnett, San Jose attorney who had represented the property owners at City Attorney Joseph Bonacina reported to the City Council Monday that the condemnation trial for those Hamilton Ave. residents who were unable to agree on an appraisal price for the properties involved in the widening project of the street has been set for January 6. It will be a jury trial and the City aproved the $300 needed for deposit with the court.

Council to Work With Merchants On Improvements

Indicating that the city administration was willing to cooperate with local merchants in an improvement program of the business section of the city, Mayor John M. Chargin this week announced that he planned to appoint a committee from the Council to work with the business group.

The Mayor's action followed the receipt of a letter by the City Council from the "Towne Square" merchants, a group of business people in two blocks of the central business section of the town. "Towne Square" merchants made suggestions and offered their assistance in a program that would have as its goal the making of a more attractive business area which by attracting more business would directly benefit the city through increased sales tax income.

The Council agreed to work with the merchant group and suggested that other merchants in addition to the "Towne Square" people be included in working toward the common goal.

Mayor Chargin said he would appoint W. L. (Bud) Morser, city building inspector, Sam O'Brien, planning commission chairman and Councilman Myron Fairchild and Charles Rose to represent the city on the committee. He said he would also ask Douglas Beatty, Chamber of Commerce president, and Guy Justo, of Guy's Furniture to serve.

It is planned, the mayor said, to meet with the "Towne Square" merchants on Thursday, January 9.

Council Acts to Change Zoning in Two Areas

On Monday night the City Council gave the first reading to ordinances changing the zoning of the area on San Jose-Los Gatos Road from Campbell Ave. north and for property at 41 N. Second St. owned by D. P. Sevrens.

The San Jose- Los Gatos Road area would be changed from light manufacturing (M-1-S) to commercial (C-1-S). About 40 acres are in this area including the Brynteson Ranch and the change would make that area on west side all commercial from Campbell Ave. north to Hamilton Ave.

The Sevrens property would be changed from one-family residential (R-1-S) to multiple-family zoning (R-2-S).

Prison Escapee Loots Market

An escapee from the Soledad prison farm, who was the object of a state-wide search for four days, when caught by San Jose police Monday in the act of breaking into a store admitted to looting the Cheerio Market in Campbell on Sunday night, Campbell police report.

Ernest J. Marshall, 22, who was under sentence for a San Jose robbery committed in 1956, said that he and a fellow prisoner had escaped by sawing the bars of their cell. After hiding out for four days, he walked to Salinas, stole a car there and drove to Campbell. He said he broke into the Cheerio Market and stole $21 from the cash register. Entry was made by forcing open a window.

He then stole a car from the Eldridge's Auto Sales on Winchester Road in Campbell and continued on to San Jose. Marshall has relatives in this area. Marshall's fellow escapee from whom he said he was separated just outside the fence at Soledad was apprehended by Salinas police also on Monday.

Two Youths Burglarize School, Steal Truck

Two Campbell Grammar School students, ages 12 and 15, who on Sunday proved to be adept, although illegal glaziers as well as truck drivers, this week were reflecting their actions in the Juvenile Hall in San Jose. The youths also have had prior experience in burglary.

The two "joy-riding" boys were apprehended by California Highway Patrol in Salinas at 9:30 p.m. Sunday for speeding. They were in a pickup truck owned by the Campbell Union School District which the two youngsters apparently had taken from the local school grounds some time earlier in the evening.

The pick-up truck had been parked in its customary place in the inner court at the Campbell Grammar School building. Entry to the court is through the building or through the locked gate on the outside. School officials think the boys chose to make their entry in the court from the building into which they first had entered from the east corridor by removing a glass pane from a door and releasing the lock.

Mrs. Dorothy Royce, principal of Campbell Grammar, also said that the boys, apparently looking for money, entered six classrooms and in each case carefully removed the glass-panes in the doors and set them down by the doors.

She said each teacher's desk in the rooms was ransacked but very little of value was taken. They failed to gain entry into two other rooms, although evidence showed that they attempted to by working on the glass-panes. No glass was broken during the entire operation, school officials report.

The boys made their exit through the locked gate after crossing the playground simply by ramming it with the truck and bending the bar that locks it.

Campbell police report that the same youths involved in the Campbell Grammar School burglary have admitted to five other burglaries of churches in this area.

Three-Car Collision Injures Four Tuesday

Four women and a baby were injured on Tuesday night in a three-car collision at Hamilton Ave. and San Jose-Los Gatos Road. Campbell police report that a car driven by Jeannette Boehme, 19, of 265 Balbach St., San Jose was making a left turn from the SJ-LG Road onto Hamilton when it collided with an auto operated by James LaCour, 23, of 348 Seymour St., San Jose.

The impact knocked the LaCour car out of control and it hit a car stopped at the intersection which was driven by Daniel F. Fanucci, 27, of 3384 Gaviota Ave., San Jose.

Josephine Anzalone, 23, a passenger in the LaCour car suffered a fractured arm and other injuries while Jimmy LaCour, 6-months, received a skull fracture. Mrs. Patricia LaCour was also examined for injuries. Miss Boehme received a bruised arm and Barbara Fanucci, a bump on the head.

You Still Can Enter Christmas Contest

Interest in the outdoor Christmas decoration contest sponsored by the merchants of the The Campbell Press took a de-The Campbell Pree tooq a decided upswing this week as the impact of the Christmas season became more evident on all residents.

As a result of this belated surge of enthusiasm to make Campbell brighter for Christmas, the sponsors of the contest have extended the deadline for entries for the contest until today (Thursday) at 9 p.m. Entry blanks apear in both The Campbell Press Merchandiser and The Campbell Press.

The seven stores acting as cosponsors are Campbell Drugs, Lee Bros., Sunshine Card and Toy, Laurel Variety, Irish Washerwoman Laundromat, C & H. Cleaners and Nielsen's Jewelers. The stores will accept entries tonight until closing time.

Two trophies will be awarded, one for the best decorated yard and the other for the best decorated tree. The winners of the contest will be announced in next week's issue of The Campbell Press which will be delivered the day after Christmas.

The most enthusiastic response came from a group of almost 30 residents on Carlyn Avenue. In a spontanious outburst of getting into the Christmas spirit of things. Residents of an entire block between Hedegard and Latimer on Carlyn have banded together and placed uniformly lighted trees in their front yards turning that part of the town into Campbell's first "Christmas Tree Lane."

Chief Judge John D. Blaine also stressed that the apparent cost of any display would not be the main point of consideration in the judging. He cited one entry made by a mother on behalf of her teen-age daughter, who had made the display all by herself.

"I think it is very nice," the mother added in a note, "even She (her daughter) has put so much work in it I thought it worth mentioning."

Others speaking at the hearing included, H. F. L. Ludeman, Oleg Lubekis, Warren Brown, Mrs. Walker Vaughn, Ralph Doetsch, Mrs. Loraine Clark and R. L. Townsend.

Most of those opposed to "CM" repeated arguments that had been presented before but Brown and Townsend turned most of their fire upon Sanitation District No. 4 which had been granted a permit by the City Council to erect a metal-type building at the very edge of the industrial park. Under "CM" such construction would be prohibited. They argue that if it was fair for one it should be fair for others.

Dell Ave. RR Crossing Crash Victim Succumbs

Funeral services were held Friday at Campbell Memorial Chapel for Allen Warder, 54, who passed away last Wednesday at a San Jose Hospital. He made his home at 261 Casey Road and was a plumber.

He had been in a coma since he was injured on October 19, when his pickup truck was demolished by a Southern Pacific switch engine at the Dell Ave. crossing in the Campbell industrial park area.

He is survived by his wife, Edith; two sons, Allen and Steven Warder. Burial was in the Los Gatos Cemetery.

Cal Poly Group Makes Farm Tour

Special to Campbell Press:

Three cars filled with agricultural students from California State Polytectnic College in San Luis Obispo visited the William Gerrans ranch near Campbell Saturday on the first leg of a 700-mile tour of central California agriculture.

The trip is actually a college course entitled, "Successful California Farms," and is one of the few courses in the country that gives unit credit for "on-the-farm" observation.

The students claim that the course probably "covers more ground" than any other course they've taken.

Comprising the "class" are eight students from California and one from Iran.

Among the group, was Bob Flood, son of George R. Flood of 970 W. San Tomas Road, Campbell. He is in his senior year as an agricultural journalism major at Cal Poly.

Accompanying the group were Dr. Edgar Hyer, head of Cal Poly's farm management department, and J. Philip Bromley, farm management instructor.

Students spent nearly two hours discussing prune operations with Gerrans and his sons, who have mechanized a number of prune orchard practices.

The Cal Poly caravan wound up its four-day itinerary Monday at the vast J. G. Boswell ranch near historic Tulare Lake.

The "Santa Fe Republican", first newspaper in New Mexico, started publication September 3, 1847.

Red Feather Fund Drive Needs $240 To Go Over Top

Campbell's United Giver-Red Feather drive is almost over the top, according to Chairman Merv Willoughby, who reported pledges or collections of $8258.58, or 97.1%

"Only a little over $240 will do it," Willoughby reports.

Doorbell ringers in the residential division made a 4.5% gain, largest step up of all divisions since the last report. With a total of $2696.09 or 89.8% of their goal of $3000.

Commerce and Industry followed with a 4.3% increase, bringing their total to $1391.75 of their $1600 bringing them to 87%. Schools remain the highest pledged or collected with 110% of their $3500 goal or $3850.75 in all.

The professional division, with no gains over the last report, now stands at $320 pledged.

The combined United Giver-Red Feather campaign for Central Santa Clara County now stands at 86% of the goal. Volunteers are being recruited in San Jose for a last ditch effort to clean up the over all fund drive.

Baby Boy, 2, Passes Away

Funeral services will be held at Bethany Lutheran Church Friday, December 20, at 2 p.m. for John A. Cook, 2, who passed away in a San Jose hospital Tuesday of this week. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Cook, 731 S. Winchester Road. Burial will be in Santa Clara Cemetery.

Besides his parents, he leaves a brother, Russel D. Bittle; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Geist of Campbell, and an aunt and uncle, Joan and Jimmy Geist.

Church Buys Site In Cambrian Park

Seven lots on the corner of Curtner and Coit Ave. have been purchased for the new Cambrian Park Church of the Nazarene, Dr. George Coulter, superintendent for the Northern California district of the denomination announced this week.

Temporary meeting place of the congregation is the Scout Hall, Third and Grant Streets, in Campbell.

Charles Gearhart, chairman of the church's planning board, states that plans for the structure should be completed in the near future. The hope that the church will be of service in its new area was expressed by the Rev. Paul Miller, pastor.

Reverend Miller is a graduate of Pasadena College and Berkeley Divinity School. He is president of the Pasadena College graduates and affiliated with Pi Kappa and Spectators Club. Since assuming his duties in Campbell last spring he has been elected Monterey Bay Zone chairman for the denomination's youth activities for the coming year.

Retired Weaver Dies at Home

Napoleon J. Belair, 78, a retired weaver, passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Irene R. Miller, 101 Union Ave. Monday, December 16. A native of Quebec, Canada, he had lived in Campbell for two years.

A Rosary will be recited tonight, December 19 at Campbell Memorial Chapel at 8 p.m. Mass will be at 10 a.m. Friday at St. Lucy's Catholic Church.

Besides Mrs. Miller, Mr. Belair was the father of: Mrs. Bertha Maxwell of New York; Mrs. Laurette Perry of Sunnyvale; Albert J. Belair of San Francisco; Louis A. Belair of Massachusetts; George H. Belair of San Jose; Mrs. Rita Standish of Michigan; and Mrs. Dorothy Dobsky of Massachusetts; brother of Adelard Belair of Deleware, and Mrs. Elizabeth Gagnon of California; grandfather of 21 and great-grandfather of 2.

Hayshakers Have Fancy Shindig

Yes sir-ee-bob, the Redwood Squirrels, Jaywalkers, and folks from a few other groups came to Campbell Monday night to join their square-dancing friends in a party the Hayshakers hosted at Dover School. The party grew until about 125 dancers were whirling and do-se-do-ing all over the place to the calls of Lou Hughes and Cliff Tranberg.

Two Little Girls, 9, Make Large Copy of Religious Art Panels

Hanging in the fourth grade room at the Seventh-day Adventist School on Rincon Ave. is a remarkable three-panel reproduction of a stained glass window made by two nine year old girls, Jeannie Smith, and Patrice Babienco, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. Roy Smith of 15520 Shannon Drive, Los Gatos, and Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Babienco of 18768 Cox Ave., Saratoga respectively.

The huge 6 by 8 foot picture depicting the Madonna and Christ Child was copied free-hand from a page in one of their teacher's handbooks by the two youngsters and is made entirely of small colored pieces of 9 by 11 inch construction paper pasted together. →

The two young artists first made a free-hand drawing of the picture on newsprint and then cut it out, tracing the patern in small sections on the colored paper. After trimming, the colored pieces were reassembled and pasted to a new background.

Madonna and child was drawn without help by Jeannie but the rest of the picture was the combined work of both little girls. Their only assistance was from their teacher, Mrs. Nellie Ramsay, who drew the outside frame for the three panels and sketched the seven-point star.

The center panel background is dark blue with the madonna's robe a pale blue. Flesh tones of mother and child were made with colored chalk. The two side panels have effective pink backgrounds for the numerous objects symbolizing the works of Christ.

An example of the girls attention to detail is found in bunches of grapes in the side panels. Each grape was cut separately and mounted on the background one at a time to form a bunch.

According to Mrs. Ramsay who teaches fourth and fifth grades, the picture was the result of the two girls wanting to make something more difficult than the usual motifs for their Christmas art work.

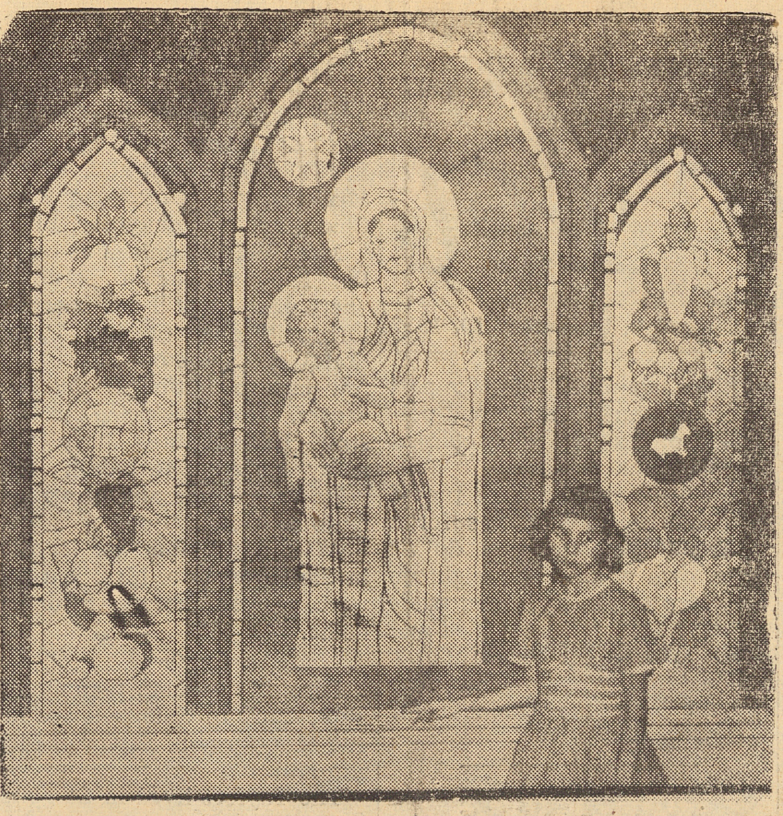
Mrs. Ramsay permitted them to search through her handbooks for new ideas but tried to dissuade them, saying it was too difficult, when they announced the stained glass panel was the picture they would copy. When the pair insisted repeatedly that they could do the work she supplied the huge sheets of paper for the pattern.

The girls spread the paper on the floor and worked on it for two weeks, part of the time during class, through recess and noon hours. The finished work is proof of their diligence and ability and is the pride of the entire school, classmates and teachers alike.

Junior Women Plan Style Show

Even though the Christmas holidays are just around the corner, members of the San Jose Junior Women's Club are already hard at work preparing for their spring fashion show on March 6. As in past years, all proceeds go to the Hope School for retarded children.

Theme of the show is being kept secret but the club promises it will be a dramatic and beautiful setting never before used as a fashion background. A luxurious trans-oceanic airline flight will be given away as a prize.



A BIG JOB FOR SMALL GIRLS ... One of the two fourth grade artists who reproduced this large religious art panel is Jeannie Smith, 9, shown posing with her handiwork at the Adventist School. Her co-worker, Patrice Babienco, also 9, was home ill at the time the picture was taken. Jeannie drew the figures of the madonna and child and worked with Patrice on the rest of the picture. Teen-age Charm Class Opens Soon Techniques of the postive approach to life's little problems can be learned as quickly as new posture habits that protect health and improve appearance, so say Mrs. Elinor Lewis and Mrs. Marion Blacke who conduct "Personality Plus" lectures in in Los Gatos.

A course for teen-age girls only, which was held in the fall, will be repeated beginning January 6. A new class for women will also start the same date.

Classes are sponsored by YOU, Unlimited, and are held in the Slimette salon, Village Square in Los Gatos. Details concerning the new courses can be obtained by calling EL 4-7795.

The first half hour of each class is devoted to applied psychology covering elimination of negatives, setting of personality goals, poise achieved through changed attitude, value of humor, compliment, and how to evaluate a personality.

Carolers Report On Fund Appeal

Carolers of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, Campbell, are making good progress in their 54th Annual World Missions Appeal according to Bert Gerrans who is directing the fund raising program.

Gerrans reports that one-fourth of the Campbell Church's $1,700 quota has already been raised and, with Pastor Andrew Dahl, expressed the hope that the church would be able to celebrate "Victory Day" on December 28.

Pastor Dahl was one of the special delegates to a two-day Adventist policy and planning session in San Jose December 8 and 9.

Campbell High Presents Annual Holiday Program

Campbell High presented its annual Christmas gift to the community last night, a program of music and dramatic tableaus.

The brass ensemble created a Christmas atmosphere by opening the program with Bach's "Christmas Chorale", under the direction of Bill Perkins. Later in the program, Perkins directed the combined glee clubs in "Lo, What A Beauteous Rose", "Carol of the Bells", "Cherubim Song", and "Go Tell It On The Mountain".

Ken Wallace's drama group staged a Bible verse-speaking Christmas story with tableaus representing six important events surrounding the birth of Jesus. In the background, the a cappella choir directed by Frank Triena, sang Christmas carols corresponding to the six events, "Silent Night", "O Come O Come, Emmanuel", "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear", "We Three Kings", "The First Noel", and "Ave Maria".

Separate numbers by the choir were "A Joyous Christmas Song", Benedictus, and "Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones". Frank Triena's seventy-piece orchestra accompanied the choir in the "Hallelujah" Chorus.

Other selections by the orchestra were "Christmas Festival Overture", "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring", and "Westminster Carol".

A California rose is a delicate pink table wine which should be served cold.

Girl Scout and Brownie News

Mrs. Winnie Ruddell, Girl Scout neighborhood chairman for San Tomas and Quito district, announces Girl Scouts of the San Francisco Council will appear on the TV show, "Success Story", Thursday night at 6:30 p.m. over Channel 7 and urges all Brownies and Girl Scouts in the area to see the program.

Third grade Brownie Troop 73 of San Tomas School held their Christmas party Monday afternoon at the home of their leader, Mrs. Doris Cutting, 810 Steinway Ave. The girls exchanged gifts and finished their Christmas gifts for their parents.

Members of the troop are: Christine Bittle, Bonnie Bradshaw, Linda Brown, Marilyn Busby, Donna Greer, Barbara Hall, Peggy Hutsell, Novene Isaksen, Barbara Ruddell, Carol Taggert, Linda Wight, Margy Young, Sandra Zeitman, Shirley Love, Bonnie Turner, and Louise Gibbons.

Co-leaders assisting Mrs. Cutting are Mrs. Juna Greer and Mrs. Winnie Ruddell.

Eighteen Brownies of Troop 37 had a gay time last week when they were the dinner guests of the Saratoga Kiwanis Club at La Hacienda Restaurant. After dinner, Kiwanis officials presented the troop with a large American flag.

Mothers accompanying the girls were Mesdames Max Smith, Edward Fox and William Giacomazzi, Jr.

Tuesday of this week the troop went to the Chandler Trip School to entertain the children with a party and present them with gifts.

The troop of fourth grade Quito girls has been sponsored by the Kiwanis Club for the past two years and is the proud possessor of its own clubroom at the Giacomazzi home.

The Giacomazzis have turned over one of their rooms for a clubroom but the girls do all their own work. The eighteen brownies set to work and made stools out of nail kegs, tied and dyed curtains for the windows, and painted happily while their fathers built the cabinets for their supplies.

'Carousel' to be Staged in 'Round'

The San Jose Light Opera Company's forthcoming January production of "Carousel" will be staged in three-quarter "round" on the main floor of the Civic Auditorium instead of the costormary front view.

Dramatic director of the show is Leslie Abbott, considered one of the West's outstanding directors, who is currently associated with Abbott-Abrams productions in San Francisco. Paul "Bud" Curtis of the Los Gatos Academy of the Dance and Theatre is handling the choreography for the show and Vincent Carter, director of the music department at Abraham Lincoln High, has been appointed musical director for the show.

Farnham Students Make Art Windows

Parents of Farnham students were invited to atend a two-day workshop conducted at the school last week by Jerry Brown, art consultant of the Cambrian District.

During the session, classes of of Mrs. Violet Pomeroy and Robert Belshaw combined efforts to paint and cut out "stained glass" windows for the cafetorium. Lighted from the inside, the windows make interesting patterns and add a festive spirit

Social Chatter

A distinguished visitor last week at the home of Mrs. Carrie Steers, 130 N. Central Ave., was Mrs. Daisy Wu of Hong Kong, China, and her daughter, Linda.

Mrs. Wu, recognized as one of the leading woman photographers of the world has been lecturing throughout the United States and she stopped off for a few days to visit her friend, Mrs. Steers, after lecturing in San Jose. Her pictures have won many prizes, including first prize for colored slides in international competition.

After concluding her lectures in San Francisco, Mrs. Wu will visit Hawaii before returning home.

Former residents planning to move back to Campbell are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry B. Taylor of Morgan Hill.

The Taylors lived in Campbell for twenty-two years before moving to Morgan Hill three years ago after the last of their family married and left the "old homestead". During this time they have not lost touch with their Campbell friends because Taylor's work brings him to Campbell each day. Now Jerry and his wife Lillian have decided there is no place like Campbell and intend to make the move as soon as possible.

Stanford Club Slates Dance

Plans for the Los Gatos-Saratoga Stanford Club's New Year's Eve dance are well under way, according to Mrs. Norman Stoner of Campbell, dance chairman. Villa Montalvo will provide the festive setting for the 200 expected guests who will dance to the music of Orin Blattner and his band.

Champagne and punch will be served throughout the evening with a buffet supper planned for midnight.

The gala event has become a tradition with many Stanford alumni in this area and is the annual highlight of the club's activities.

Mrs. W. S. Thompson, reservation chairman, reports early reservations indicate a capacity crowd and urges all those planning to attend to make their reservations soon.

Other chairmen assisting Mrs. Stoner with arrangements are Mesdames Richard Maddux, food; William Silker, punch; and Robert Folendorf, decorations.

Camp Fire and Blue Bird News

Starting in January, honor beads for Campbell District can be obetained from Mrs. Joseph Voytek as well as the San Jose office. Mrs. Voytek will bring the beads to the Leaders' Association meeting in January. Firemakers can earn part of their Camp Fire Service requirement by helping to string the beads.

Wa-Cha-Zu-Ki group recently had a dinner at the home of Judy Keller to fulfill a requirement for Torchbearer rank.

The theme, based on a national holiday, was Christmas. Virginia Anderson made the centerpiece, a winter scene of pine branches and red berries set in plaster of paris and used as a background for tiny woodland animals standing in snow. Other table decorations were a ming tree made from a manzanita bough and decorated with Christmas balls, and place cards of candy canes.

The girls planned, marketed, cooked and served the dinner. A program followed on requirements for Torch Bearer ranks in folk lore, dancing, citizenship, and homemaking.

Guests other than the girls' parents were Dr. and Mrs. Leslie Jauncey, leader and sponsor, and Mrs. Thomas Cordona, assistant to the group.

Members are Donna Cordona, Virginia Anderson, Judy Kellar, Shirley Shanks, Marcia Manson, Paula Transeth, Virginia O'Dell, Ann Alioto, Carrie McNulty, and Linda Gantenbein.

Four groups of Blue Birds from the Dover area last week held a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Gillie Noble. Three of the groups are called Jolly Blue Birds and are led by Mesdames Parker, Russell Kern and T. G. Cowan. The fourth group is called Friendly Blue Birds and is led by Mrs. Dolly Donahoo.

The girls exchanged presents and each leader presented token gifts to her girls. After each group had entertained the others with a special song, the groups all joined in for a community sing of familiar carols. Refreshments were served by leaders.

Under the leadership of Mrs. John Nevin, the Ki-Kwa-Han-Ya Camp Fire group has earned the Jubilee Charm by organizing a new Blue Bird group at Cherry Lane School, the California Poppy group.

Girls eligible for the Jubilee Charm are Judy Campbell, Darlene Chapman, Kitty Lloyd, Penny Wright, Jeanette Magnasco, Nancy Nevin, Karen Marvin, Pamela De Martino and Karen Brown.

California Poppies are: Alene Woods, Kathy Veal, Frances Aken, Judy Brown, Lois Makamura, Donna Browder, Cathy McConnell, Suzan Deshlevy, Christine Garrison, and Loretta Magnasco. Mrs. Leonard McConnell is the group's leader.

—o—

Campbell was represented at the "Y Teen" party by girls from five Camp Fire groups. It was the first dance for many of the girls and all say they enjoyed the party immensely.

WEAVERS HOLD PARTY

Los Gatos Weavers Guild celebrated the holidays with a Christmas party Wednesday, December 18, at the home of Mrs. H. E. Burke on Mozart Ave.

Mrs. John Palm was program chairman. Mrs. Fred Paul conducted a short business meeting.

Consular offices of 49 foreign nations are located in San Francisco.

Farnham Club Votes' to Finance School Patio

The main topic under discussion at the December 10 meeting of Farnham Home and School Club was the club's proposal to finance a school patio for children who bring their lunches.

Albert Vatuone, principal pointed out the need for such a patio and Tony Cavala reported on an estimate of $150 for the project. Members voted to sponsor the work with a committee to report on progress at the January meeting.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Rowena Cavala's Brownie Troop 96 serving as color guard. Entertainment was furnished by the school band under the direction of Joe Farruggia. Musical numbers included a Christmas carol.

Jerry Brown, art consultant for the district, spoke of the need and value of a directed art program for classrooms and conducted a workshop in which the audience made Christmas candles and star cut-outs.

Why is a Bill of Attainder Unfair?

Don Chamberlin
8th grade

It was two weeks after the city election, and Henry Cooper was worried. John Feller had been elected to the office of County Sheriff, and Feller was a long-time enemy of Cooper. Shortly after the election, Feller announced that several eye witnesses had seen Henry Cooper driving dangerously fast through town in a green and white Ford convertible. A vehicle answering that description had been stolen from one of the town's most influential citizens only a short time before.

Henry Cooper and his wife and family knew that he was taken the children for a ride in innocent, and that they had the outlying country during the afternoon he had supposedly been seen. But since he was out of town and no one had seen him leave, what was his word against that of the sheriff, and his friend who rightfully owned the convertible?

However, Henry really need not worry. The citizens of his town were honest, observant, and knew him well enough to trust him over the new sheriff. However if bills of attainder were legal, Henry could very easily be thrown in jail unjustly and without a trial by the sheriff. Really, Mr. Cooper has a reason to be very thankful for the part of the Constitution forbidding Bills of Attainder.

TEENAGE REFLECTIONS

by Girls' Discussion Group

Our group has the opportunity to informally discuss teen topics and the problems which beset the youth of today. The class usually includes about fifteen girls under the guidance of Mrs. Alta Owens. We pool our thoughts and our experiences and arrive at conclusions which would best benefit the circumstance or the person. We realize we are entering an adult world and we are aware of the preparation which is necessary in taking our place as happy, well-adjusted citizens.

What constitutes happiness? This is an important teen question and we discover it is made up of many elements. Through our discussion, we recognize the importance of honesty and sincerity, cooperation and sharing, respect for others, and the necessity for spiritual values.

Teen-time is an important time for the way we act as an adult largely depends on the personality we are developing now. We must adopt a yard stick to measure our code of conduct which has as its basis a mutual understanding of all age groups. We are impressed with the value of harmonious home relationships which shall pay dividends as our social world expands. We are very conscious of girl-boy relationships and we are anxious to gain confidence in social graces and social acceptance.

We realize that we are about to step into a new order and as we enter high school, we want a feeling of security and of being equipped to do a good job. In finding our special place in the world, we are aware that maturity and responsibility are important requirements in our progress scholastically and socially.

COMPOSITION FOR CIVICS

Barbara Hollis
8th grade

Almost one hundred years ago our nation was separated because the southern states did not agree with those in the north about slavery.

Now we are facing almost the same problem. Except now, the the people from the southern state do not want their children mixing with those of Negro families, especially in the schools. The rest of the United States, including the President, want integration. For this reason the President recently called the National Guard out to protect the Negro students.

Governor Faubus of Arkansas very much resented this intrusion and said the state could handle its own affairs without national help.

But the Constitution guarantees protection of any citizen who is being deprived of his rights by other citizens. Either Governor Faubus has not read this part of the Constitution lately or he probably interpreted it wrong.

With all the other important affairs occurring in the world let us hope that our nation will not become separated because of a disagreement over who is attending the public schools.

NOT AT ALL FUNNY

Poem for Civics

The matter was not at all funny
For Johnny could not spend the money
Which he and his brother
Received from their mother
For doing their duties last Sunday.

They wanted the car on the table
Which sported the Oldsmobile label
But the man at the store
Had dollars galore
And told them the following
fable:

"Money piled high as the sky
Is worth only what it will buy
I'm having some trouble
My prices are double
What yesterday seemed much too high."

"So run along now with your nickel
Remember that fortune is fickle
By keeping my car
I'm richer by far
Tomorrow my prices will triple."

FINE ARTS

The Fine Arts activity class, under the supervision of Miss Mason, is extended to all students with artistic talent and for special interest in art. Their job in this class is to produce any needed art work for the school, such as posters, and bulletin boards, and occasionally play props. Their biggest and most enjoyable job is to provide decorations for the monthly student dances held in the cafetorium.

The themes for the dances are originated by the student council and then the Fine Arts Class works out appropriate decorations. The last 8th grade dance used the theme "Honeycomb". The decorative bees and castles of honeycomb made a very effective atmosphere, and the class received many compliments from the eighth graders.

The members of the Fine Arts class include: Gary Clark, Howard Bain, Wayne Bridges, Jim Hunt, Randy La Morte, Joan Almquist, Christine Anderson, Loretta Bohn, Barbara Bohnett, Suzanne Brown, Jane Davis, Barbara Hubbard, JoAnn Jones, Marie Kong, Diana Leonis, Roxanne Molay, Martha Robinson, Patty Rosa, Lynn Stoops, Joanne Stypula, Camille La Mantia, and June Omura.

Congress has the power to declare war because Congress represents the epople. If the President had the power to declare war, he would follow his own wishes, and not the will of the people. The framers of the Constitution knew that one man, no matter how wise, could not follow the wish of everyone. Congress declares war, but the President has to approve the declaration before it is put in effect.

The federal government shouldn't ever ask for the death penalty for treason. The reason I think this is because the reason we have courts is to make someone better after he has committed the crime. If you kill them, how can they have a chance to be better? If you do it for an example, no one pays any attention. They say, "Well, I won't get caught." Put them in jail for life if you like, but don't kill them.

State Starts Mailing Truck Renewal Tabs

Vehicle registration renewal cards for 1958 have been mailed to over 1,400,000 owners of commercial vehicles and all types of trailers, Paul Mason, Director of Motor Vehicles, has announced in Sacramento.

Statement cards for private passenger cars will be mailed as in the past on December 26. The total number of cards to be distributed will be over 7,600,000.

The department is already issuing validated 1958 registration cards and rear license plate stickers to owners of trucks, buses, cabs, and all types of trailers. They may apply without penalty through February 4, 1958.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Let's Keep Christ in Christmas

EDITOR,
The Campbell Press
Sir:

This is the time of year when people's hearts (at least in normal people) begin to soften, if ever, toward one another. People seem to speak more kindly, be more courteous, more "forgiving" as well as more "giving". Families that have been separated for months by school or armed services and many other reasons are united once more and home ties seem to be cherished more than usual. It even reaches the Governor of the state who each year grants a few Christmas pardons, and loved ones of those pardoned rejoice together with them.

People are busy in stores buying nice things—not for themselves but for OTHERS! This seems to be the keynote of Christmas to the many—but sad to say, but nevertheless true far too many misunderstand or seem to have NO REGARD for the REAL spirit of Christmas. If Christmas doesn't signify CHRIST, then it doesn't do anything! The very foundation of the word itself is CHRIST. With CHRIST out of Christmas—you have nothing left but MAS and if you leave the Christian attitude or spirit out of YOUR CHRISTMAS ACTIVITY you have nothing left but a MESS!

Many will be thinking of "spirits" for the holidays instead of maintaining the holiday SPIRIT. Many will be concerned about so called Christmas CHEER instead of spreading cheer at Christmas. If you want Christmas cheer—REAL CHEER—spread CHEER and HAPPINESS and it will cheer you as you do it. As we celebrate the birth of the Savior of the world, the incarnate work of God, the kind, tender, loving, compassionate son of God, the lowly Nazarene, let us think soberly, tenderly, compassionately, and not give ourselves over to riotous parties and hilarity. It is well to be HAPPY and have a MERRY Christmas but realize and rejoice in the fact that "unto us a child is born unto US a son is given. God gave his only son to humanity as a substitute for our sin; Yes, we have much to rejoice about—sing—shout—ring bells, etc—but let's not get our inspiration from the wrong source.

Let us rejoice in a Savior who was born to die for us—then we will not only have a MERRY CHRISTMAS and a HAPPY NEW YEAR but can maintain that spirit through every season!

LET'S KEEP CHRIST IN OUR CHRISTMAS—

EDITORIAL

The Blessings of Christmas

Because we feel that the following editorial which appeared in the California Feature Service expresses our feeling on Christmas, we clipped it and present it verbatim:

"Christmas is nostalgia and anticipation. It is joy: the joy of giving and receiving; the joy of the soul. It is one of the world's greatest religious festivals, and it is a visit home, with all the laughter and songs, the enticing smells of food made more savory by just the fact that it is Christmas.

Christmas is snow and sleds; sunshine and palm trees; a holiday from school and work, a time of worship and of thanks for the goodness of life. It is a time of sadness for some who remember the other and happier days—yet it holds in its great, all-encompassing heart a golden blessing for everyone, even those who may not understand.

For it is the Christmas spirit that led St. Francis to pray that "I may not so much seek to be consoled as to console; to be understood, as to understand; to be loved, as to love. For it is in giving that we receive, it is in pardoning that we are pardoned; it is in dying that we are born to eternal life."

To all, may the blessings of Christmas be yours all days."

Tax Bill Needs to be Broken Down

In the "News Letter" published by the County Supervisors Association, we ran across an interesting item under the heading, "Separate Bills for School Taxes?"

The supervisors, it seems, resent being the "whipping boy" for increased taxes when often they had nothing to do with it.

(We had mentioned the same thing on several occasions in respect to the Campbell taxes, i.e. the city getting blamed for raising taxes when actually Campbell's City Council had lowered 'em.)

The article reported that there have been threats of tax strikes, recall elections and just plain public resentment boiling over stemming from the tax bills that were passed out.

The need for a good sound public information program such as Contra Costa County put into effect this year was apparent.

That county spelled out how much of the total was for schools, special districts and general county government, included in the total tax bill. The supervisors and city councils get blamed for all those taxes despite the fact that they had absolutely no control over them. The county merely serves as tax collector.

"Though impractical from the cost factor, an even better method (than the Contra Costa County plan) would be to send the property owner a separate bill for school taxes", the report suggests.

"This would reveal even more graphically how much he is paying for an expensive, but necessary public schools program."

We have no idea how costly such a program would be. In effect, it would mean duplication in the mailing and undoubtedly a raise in the cost of administration and collection.

But the idea has considerable merit.

Such a method would not make our tax bill lighter, but it would give a clearer breakdown of the tax supported services, and, in our opinion, would give the taxpayer a better insight as to the cost of government.

Another county tried to explain the situation better with a leaflet entitled, "How Much? — and what for?"

We hold that it is extremely important to know those facts.

There has been entirely too much sounding off about high taxes with the abuse and criticism directed at the wrong agency.

For example, we have said before that we think city dwellers have a real gripe. In some instances they are not getting full value from the county general tax rate for which they pay the same rate as those who live in county territory.

There are other examples we could cite in carrying out this "how much and what for" theme.

A better informed taxpayer would be a big help in getting the record straight.

OUT on the LIMB

with

George Vierhus

No one can be immune to the Christmas season. In one way or another it catches us all in one way or 'tother.

We are a little disappointed that more local residents have not entered the decorated yard and tree contest. But then again such an activity is only visible evidence of what the season means.

The real meaning of Christmas, its religious significance, is something that can not always be displayed. The other phases, cards, bells, carol singers, mistletoe, crowds of shoppers are too easy to see.

—o—

We went out on a routine assignment last week to shoot a picture or two of the Christmas pageant at the D. M. Bagby School.

We were so impressed by the colorful program which depicted the basic Christmas story that after we had taken a couple of pictures (we ran 'em last week) we took a number of others of the youngsters on the stage depicting the story that never gets old.

We plan to use these others in a Christmas panel we are planning for our Christmas issue which will be delivered the day after Christmas.

The Bagby production was written and directed by Mrs. Irene Cook, assisted by Mrs. Rose Vessel and Mrs. Eleanor Hewston. It was presented at two assemblies and then for the Bagby PTA. Dressed in the traditional robes, students pantomimed events surrounding the birth of Christ while two choirs told the old familiar story in song. We hope our pictures do justice to it.

By the way, after considerable discussion in an attempt to eliminate as many of the headaches as possible in our production schedule—because of Christmas falling on what normally is our press day, we decided to dis- tribute the day after Christmas.

All of us at The Press will thus take the day off and be with our families.

Incidentally while on the subject of Christmas again we want to go on record (we do this every year) as being unalterably opposed to the use of "XMAS" to sngnify CHRISTMAS.

Sure, we know that the space factor enters into the picture and sometimes it seems impossible to crowd all those letters into the space available.

(If you think you have a tough time, drop down some time when newspaper people are attempting to write headlines. No one has invented rubber type and there is nothing as inflexible as metal type. We know.)

We were wistfully hoping that we wouldn't see too many of these "Xmas" signs this year. But it was just hope.

We are naturally disappointed to note that the big sign across the City Hall reads "Merry Xmas".

We know those on our side of the picture would have preferred to see a smaller sign but with the word spelled out.

It's like the newscaster said when he reported on our satellite's flop.

"That's the way it goes. You win a few. You lose a few."

—o—

We ran a picture of the attractive "Towne Square" neon-lighted sign in last week's issue. An arrow on the sign points to the parking lot at the rear of the store buildings.

The sign was made and installed by the Ray-Lite Neon company of San Jose. Frank Bush of Campbell is the salesman for the sign firm.

We were told by a cynical individual when the sign first went up that motorists looking for a place to park might attempt to drive right over the curb and through the space where Jimmy's Shoe Repair Shop is being built.

We didn't agree. We thought most people would notice that there was no driveway there and that entrance to the parking lot was around the corner.

We were wrong. Our cynical friend was right.

To date we understand three drivers have taken the sign of the arrow at its face value and tried to get to the parking lot in the most direct manner . . . right across the curb.

One driver got her car clear up on the sidewalk before she realized that there was no driveway thataway.

—o—

Matt Davis, now employed at the Campbell Lumber Co. but for a number of years was Nubs Schoenberger's right-hand man at the Shell station at Central and Campbell has suggested a traffic signal idea for that intersection which we think has considerable merit and perhaps worthy of study by city officials.

Matt's idea would be to install a signal at that intersection that would operate only when the fire engine comes tearing out of the firehouse on Central Ave.

Davis claims that while at Nubs he had attempted to direct traffic at that intersection when a fire engine was about to roll. He darn near got killed for his pains, he said. Motorists on Campbell Ave. paid him no heed but he thinks they might pay some attention to a signal.

The signal would be operated from the fire house and would only flash red when the engines were rolling to a fire.

It sounds o.k. to us.

—o—

This doesn't happen very often but Lyle Ray, our efficient office manager, found a ten cent error in the paper's bank statement recently. And the mistake, incidentally, was made by the bank, The bank by the way, was happy to hear about it.

In our personal bank account we can't recall a single time when the bank was wrong. We used to have a heck of a time making our personal check book balance but we don't have that trouble any more.

We married a cute bank teller just a year ago. What's that they say; "if you can't beat 'em, join 'em".

Plumbing Council Presents Prize

Mrs. J. Bellick, 1010 Fremont St., Santa Clara, was the winner of the automatic dishwasher awarded by the Plumbing, Heating & Air Conditioning Council of Santa Clara in a drawing held on the steps of the Santa Clara City Hall, Tuesday of last week.

The award was the first of monthly prizes that the Council is presenting as part of its public relations program stressing the theme, "Good Plumbing Service Costs Less Than You Think."

According to the directors, the Plumbing, Heating & Air Conditioning Council is a joint effort by management and labor to stress the importance for health and sanitation of using licensed plumbing contractors for all plumbing, heating and air conditioning work.

The Council's board of trustees include Henry Berger, John Schmedes, and Tom Tripiano of the plumbing contractors and Dominic Barbaria, Rex Saunders and George Wildhagen of the plumbers union. The public relations campaign includes a series of advertisements appearing in the county newspapers as well as the awarding of the monthly prizes.

RAIN DROPS

With clouds at press time indicating that more of the same was soon to follow, a total of 1.94 inches of rain was brought to Campbell in the current storm, the Campbell Water Co. reports. The total for the season is now 3.74 inches compared to a normal of 4.17 and 1.50 that had fallen at this time last year. Total for last year was 12.26 inches.

GETS CONTRACT

P. & E. Construction Co., 1620 S. 7th Street, San Jose on Monday was awarded the contract by the City Council for the storm drain construction on Hamiltoon Avenue between Winchester Rd. and Milton Avenue. The firm was low bidder with $11,568.30. Bids ranged to a high of $14,556. The engineer's estimate was 13,766.

Over the Years

By John D. Blaine

Last week I wrote about a possible Christmas present to citizens of Campbell: namely, enforcement of our Campbell Bicycle Ordinance, in particular Section 13:42.1.

This Section reads: "No person shall ride a bicycle upon any sidewalk."

My reason for renewed interest in this subject was that an indignant woman had spoken to me and emphatically said, "In spite of all you have said in your columns against children riding bicycles on Campbell sidewalks it goes right on."

This indignant woman further said, "Recently a mother told me that her little girl three years old had been knocked down by a cycling boy on the Campbell sidewalk in the business district near the center of town."

This indignant woman still further said that she herself had a narrow escape from being hit by a cycling boy riding on the sidewalk near our post-office. She had looked up to see this speeding boy coming right at her. Only by a quick jump to one side had she avoided being knocked down.

Both of these women live out of town. Campbell merchants want women of surrounding homes to shop here. It is no advertisement for Campbell business to have it being said that women and their little children are in peril in our town because big children ride their bicycles on our business sidewalks.

I saw that I needed a new approach to this serious problem. So I decided to call on the Police Department of Los Gatos to have a look at that town's laws regulating use of bicycles. To my astonishment I was given a copy of a Legal Notice of a Bicycle Ordinance four columns wide and 18 inches long, in regular newspaper print.

This Ordinance had been published in full in a Los Gatos newspaper after being adopted December 2nd, 1946. In it I found bicycle riding in Los Gatos expressly prohibited on "any sidewalk or pedestrian paths." Exception was made, however, for juveniles under age of 10 years. They might ride with "due care" on sidewalks not "in front of stores or other buildings used for business purposes."

I decided to see what I could find about bicycles in the Police Department of Campbell. A courteous woman clerk assumed that I was desiring a bicycle license. She explained that such was only to be had at certain times.

With some difficulty I succeeded in making this nice clerk understand that I was interested in seeing Campbell's complete Bicycle Ordinance, if there was any. It appeared that my request was almost unheard-of. This startled but polite person at last went behind a partition and emerged with a Bicycle Ordinance in carbon copy which she kindly said I might have for my own.

On reading this Ordinance in my den I saw that here was something that if enforced would make Campbell a cycling paradise. I was relieved and at last even amused. Here was an Ordinance that if enforced would change cycling in Campbell from something that drives us nuts to an example for our lofty inspiration.

Occasionally I have seen a cycling child make a regulation arm signal for a turn. I assume now (no sarcasm intended) that such an inspiring sight has resulted from verbal instructions from our Campbell Police Department, telling the child that bikes are subject to laws governing all vehicles.

Section 13.36.1 of our Bicycle Ordinance clearly states the foregoing to be a fact. Hence the authority for instructions from our Police. And I have myself been inspired to arm signals when riding a bike by the example of Police-instructed children.

Just why our efficient Police have done nothing to educate cycling children against riding bikes on Campbell sidewalks in business sections has been to me very puzzling.

An interested woman has suggested to me that full enforcement of our cycling Ordinance would bring our Police no limelight. This charge I am sure our Police would feel to be an injustice. They would rightly resent the implication that their enforcement of our laws is a matter of personal vanity.

There is another and far more horrible thought. It comes from far back over the years when our local enforcement officer was only a constable. I recall it was said that for an officer not to do his duty was a misdemeanor. For this neglect he would be subject to a fine of $300 or a sentence of six months in jail or both.

On second thought, however, I believe this law applied only to failure to prosecute persons known to operate illegal gambling devices. I knew an instance of two where this law was an effective shot in the official arm.

The effective shot in the official arm needed just now may be an aroused public opinion. Rightly looked at, it is an injustice to our Police not to have this stimulant. With help of aroused public opiniion our Bicycle Ordinance might contribute to our FIREPLACES are bright and cheerful. While they add coziness to the home, they also add an extremely hazardous element. Unfortunately, fireplaces have the potential power of destroying the homes that they brighten.

Never forget for a moment that you have a relatively open fire burning inside your house, only a few feet away from combustible materials. Here are a few fireplace rules:

1. Be sure your fireplace has a good screen to keep sparks from popping out.
2. Never go away and leave a crackling fire, even if your fireplace is well screened.
3. Have your chimney cleaned of soot regularly and checked for chimney and flue cracks.
4. See that children do not play too close to the fireplace.
5. Adults also should be careful about standing too close to the fire. Dressing gowns and bathrobes are especially hazardous.
6. Dump ashes in a metal container and carry outside. Never dump ashes into wooden boxes or paper cartons.

Does your fireplace have a spark arrestor? If so, is it in shape? Remember, almost six percent of home fires are caused by sparks on the roof.

As the Fire Departments' partner in protecting the community against the menace of fire, we are happy to devote this space to fire prevention messages from the Fire Chiefs in our service area.

WHAT'S DOING
J. F. Imsand, your Telephone Manager in Campbell

Every so often I'll pick up a newspaper and read how telephone people have helped save a life somewhere. First aid instruction (above) deserves a lot of credit for this. For years we've been teaching our people first aid. Special courses like this are a part of their telephone training, under our continuing Safety Program. Our people have found that the safety methods they learned on their telephone jobs have proved mighty helpful when away from work. We think it makes good sense to have everyone well-trained in case of emergencies. Everybody's better off that way.

Looking for a Christmas gift idea that's both original and practical? Then give extension telephones — in color. Whether you're shopping for Mother, Father, Son, Daughter, Grandpa or Grandma, here's a gift that'll ring the bell all year long. And color phones not only give convenience and pleasure; they add a touch of beauty to any room. Shopping's easy, too. Just call your telephone business office.

In case you are wondering, we have just added an additional prefix to our ever-increasing Direct Distant Dialing Network.

Alpine 3 is assigned to the Cupertino Area, and the associated equipment is located in the central office in Cupertino.

If you remember, it was just last January that we completed this office and assigned the prefix of ALpine 2. With this additional prefix we now have a total capacity of approximately 11,000 telephone numbers.

Again this should prove that we are doing our best to meet the growing needs of the Santa Clara Valley.

If you or your club would like to be our guests at one of our buildings, please call us at CYpress 2-9000 and ask your Service Representative to make the arrangements.

Cougars Capture Santa Cruz Title

With Mel Profit, Greg Rocha and Ron Citta leading the way, Camden High's Cougars rolled to three straight wins and a championship last week at the Santa Cruz Invitational Tournament.

The trio proved unwelcome guests as they paced the Cougars to wins over host Santa Cruz 49-41 and over Watsonville 47-39 in opening games to get a shot at the tourney title against Monterey.

Then with Rocha pumping in 15 points, the Cougars, picked to win the SCVAL title this year, jumped into the championship seat with a 49-35 triumph over the Monterey squad.

All three gained spots on the all-tournament team as the Cougars reinforced their claim on SCVAL honors in the pre-season tourney.

FORGERY CHARGE

Campbell police report that Roy Cartoni, 22, who was arrested in Turlock charged with passing forged checks in the Campbell area has been returned to this county to face the charge. Cartoni is alleged to have passed a $74 forged check at the Sherrin Oil Co. last July. He had left the state and was nabbed upon his return.

Another joyous holiday season is here . . . and another opportunity for us to wish all our good friends and patrons every happiness and success.

Campbell Cagers Stun Fans In Near Upset

Campbell High's Buccaneers did not place in the James Lick Tournament last week but they served notice that they could play on even terms with the best.

In the opening round of the third annual tourney, the Bucs came from behind to within four points of upsetting tournament champion Santa Clara with a 5' 7" guard up from last year's "B" team leading the way.

Little Benny Lujan, playing in his third varsity basketball game, rolled up a total of 14 points to spark the Bucs to a 35-39 near win against the Panthers.

Lujan spearheaded a 15-point, third quarter drive by scoring four field goals and two free throws to bring Campbell to within one point of the leaders but fouled out a few seconds into the fourth quarter.

Forward John Kriewall was second high man for Campbell with nine points while Santa Clara's Bob Lister was high for both teams with 19. Lister was later chosen most valuable player for the tourney and named to the all-tournament team for the third straight year.

In the second round of the tourney, the Bucs dropped a 40-27 consolation game to home team James Lick after they could not get unwound in the first half.

The Comets scored 24 points in the first half while holding Campbell to only seven points, all of which came on free throws.

Lujan again was high scorer for the Bucs with a total of ten He sparked another third quarter scoring spree that pulled the Bucs to within seven points of the Comets at the end of the period.

Kriewall, center Alan Burdick and forward Gary Richards added five points each against Lick.

Mrs. Margo Robertson of "Margo's" Beauty Salon at 441 Cambridge Street in Palo Alto, was amazed when she realized how much proper plumbing maintenance means to her business.

"From finger waves to mud packs, from color dying to permanents, everything we do requires an ample supply of water. You just can't run a beauty salon without it," said Mrs. Robertson, "and the surprising thing is that our plumbing repairs comprise just a fraction of our complete maintenance costs."

Good plumbing service costs less than you think. Whenever you buy, repair install or remodel, call a licensed plumbing contractor.

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

REMINDERS

1. America's favorite flower makes a wonderful Christmas gift. Why not give rose bushes to home owners on your Christmas list?

2. Don't delay any longer on planting spring flowering bulbs. Tulips, hyacinths, ranunculas and anemones can still be planted in most areas.

3. Hardy garden lilies for bloom next spring and summer should be planted now.

4. If you haven't already invested in a Christmas tree, look over the "living" Christmas trees at local nurseries. These can be kept in containers and brought in each year for a while and then planted outdoors permanently.

5. Indoor plants make wonderful Christmas gifts.

Plants for Christmas Gifts

Although berried and blooming plants are strangers to Santa's chilly North Pole Workshop, they make charming and attractive Christmas gifts in temperate California. Among the many excellent Yule gift possibilities the California Association of Nurserymen suggests hollies, pyracanthas, azaleas, cyclamen, African Violets and Camellias.

Hollies and pyracanthas make wonderful Christmas gifts for gardening friends and relatives because they are among the most popular and useful shrubs in the state. In addition, if gift shoppers select plant specimens in five gallon cans already bearing berries, the recipients are then furnished with beautiful seasonal decorations as a bonus. Innumerable varieties of holly and pryacantha make it possible for shoppers to select low growing (pyracantha crenatoserrata Santa Cruz), medium growing (Chinese Holly) or taller types (pyracantha graberi and Rosedale).

Florist's Cyclamen (c. indicum) has long been an enthusiastically received Christmas gift plant. This graceful bulbous flower comes in white and in shades of pink and rose. Cyclamen can be planted outdoors after the holiday season and will give almost continuous bloom for several years. The best plan is to put the plant in a shady spot in moist, fertile soil.

Azaleas and camellias rank high on any list of honored shrubs in California and the varieties in bloom during the holidays make delightful gifts. The azaleas most noted for winter bloom are the Belgian Indicas, of which there are many fine named varieties in several hues. Two gorgeous camellia varieties usually in lush bloom during December are Daikigura Variegated (pink and white) and the lovely pink Kumasaka.

Potted African Violets are great favorites with indoor gardeners, many of whom have made a hobby of filling suitable windows with many varieties and colors. This popularity indicates the welcome which will greet the African Violet as a Christmas gift. The best environment for African Violet is a window that provides abundant light with a minimum of direct sunlight. Generally a northern or eastern window fulfills this demand.

Because the giver of a plant as a Christmas gift is naturally interested in its success, it is sometimes a good idea to obtain from the nurseryman some detailed instructions to pass on to inexperienced gardeners. These instructions are often in the form of a pamphlet and can be slipped into the gift without seeming out of place.

Christmas gift shoppers should not overlook the possibility of selecting lovely blooming plants to take to parties during the gay holiday season. A lovely potted cyclamen or African Violet is sure to delight the hostess and incidentally insure for the giver a return invitation.

Nurseries make the fresh stock they set out for the holidays as attractive as the busy season lets them, and the Christmas shopper can easily add his own special touch. A few baubles, ribbons and pine cones can give the plant a personal touch and perhaps earn for the plant a prominent place among the Christmassy ornaments of the household.

POINSETTIA

American Christmas customs have been derived from all over the world. For example, the reason for celebration came from the Near East, while the decorated tree and other piney touches stem from pagan mid-European traditions. One of the loveliest of the many Yuletide trappings, the Poinsettia, is a native of Mexico and Central America, advises the California Association of Nurserymen.

Familiarity has somewhat disguised the exotic qualities of this unusual plant. Gardeners are not always aware that the beauty of the poinsettia lies not in the rather undistinguished flower, but in the large brilliant red bracts spreading out in star-like effect beneath the flower.

The plant, in accordance with a practice quite common in horticultural circles, was named after the man who discovered it and introduced it to the gardening world. This individual J. R. Poinsett, was serving as United States minister to Mexico

Cougar Hoopsters Enter Tournament During Holidays

Camden High's varsity basketball squad will be the only local team in action over the school Christmas vacation as all other teams discontinue sports until January after tomorrow's games.

Camden's cagers move into the Mountain View Invitational Tournament Dec. 26-28 and then return home Friday, January 3, at 7:30 p.m. to host Palo Alto High. Camden's "B" cagers will also move back into action that night with a preliminary to the varsity contest against Palo Alto's Bs.

Campbell High's varsity and "B" squads also resume play January 3 at 7:30 p.m. against Willow Glen there.

Campbell and Camden's wrestling teams both contine their SCVAL schedule Tuesday, January 7 at 3:30 p.m. Campbell hosts San Lorenzo High at that time while Camden hosts Santa Clara.

Camden Matmen Edged by Fremont In SCVAL Match

Defending champion Fremont edged past a determined Camden wrestling squad 24-21 last week to give the Cougars a share of the cellar in SCVAL standings.

It was the second loss of the season for the Cougars who had to take on the two toughest teams in the league, Fremont and Campbell, in their opening matches.

Deciding factor in the loss to Fremont was probably 138 lb. entry Jay Williams failure to make weight and then his loss to Fremont's defending champ, Bob Ilse, in the 154 lb. division.

Cougar Coach Bill Walker had moved Williams up but Ilse sqqueezed out a 1-0 decision for what might have been the three deciding points.

Camden won two matches on pins, with Warren Roberts getting his second win of the season in the 191 lb. class and Jess Macias winning his first of the year in the 133 lb. division.

Brodie, who was the star of last week's game, seemed to run into considerable trouble. It was the old veterans, Joe Perry and Y. A. Tittle that pulled the game out of the fire.

Santa Clara Victorious

Tuesday night the Santa Clara Broncos Basketball team beat the favored Olympic Club team 74-68. The game was sparked by veteran Gary Gillmor and sophomore Frank Sobsero, Jr. Coach Bob Ferruch said it was by far their best game of the year.

The Broncos came through Friday night to beat San Francisco State.

Santa Clara mostly an inexperienced team this year, but I think they will be stiff competition.

SJS Upsets Stanford

The San Jose State Spartans gave the Stanford Indians their first loss of the season by taking the game 66-59.

Overtime Win for Bears

The California Golden Bears beat St. Marys Gaels 67-57 in a game that went into two overtimes. The Gaels fell apart in the second half at which time they were leading 30-19.

U.C.L.A. Undefeated

The U.C.L.A. Bruins after struggling the first half came back in the second to take De Pauw University of Indiana 73-48.

Baseball Honors

Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox was awarded his fifth American League batting crown with a .388 batting average. Williams, who is 39 years old, was the oldest player ever to win the title in the circuit history.

Mickey Mantle, last year's triple-crown winner, ended up with a .365 average and 34 homers.

Hundreds Face Bleak Christmas

Although registration for needy families closed today at the San Jose Christmas Exchange, names of hundreds of familes are still available and can be obtained by calling the Salvation Army at CY 5-8202, or the Volunteers of America at CY 3-7464. Both organizations will continue their service until Christmas Day.

Many families, some with six or more youngsters, are in need of warm clothing and food and would also sincerely appreciate a few toys to help make the children's Christmas a happy one.
